

Scan Welding System

Table Top and Stand Alone Scan Weld System

These scan welders are designed to weld clam shells together using ultrasonics. The machine is operated by one person, who loads the part on one side feeds it through the welding wheel, or is fed through with a conveyor. This machine uses a 20 kHz horn with one power supply, however, different frequencies can be used. Speeds up to 100 foot per minute.

